Please stop the litigation against microsoft.

Being a successful business in the USA requires a company to overcome its competition by any means. Microsoft has followed the rules and is being sued because of it. I do not understand why the US government feels that it must destroy a legitimate business simply because it is successful.

Is the government trying to make businesses leave the USA and provide jobs for people in other countries? If that is true, it is becoming very successful.

The abuse of the judicial system by the justice department must be stopped and the case against Microsoft must be dropped.
